Get Local

As part of its 40th anniversary celebrations, local haute joaillerie house Selberan pays tribute to a distinct South East Asian heritage in a jewellery collection inspired by batik and songket. With history that spans hundreds of years, batik and songket are an integral cultural element of Malaysia.

The batik inspired pieces feature a floral motif and an abstract pattern while the songket pieces carry a measured beauty, expressed in the form of sophisticated floral shapes in various sizes and forms. The aesthetics of the motif and pattern is nothing but bold and feminine. Made in 18k gold, the collection is handcrafted by Selberan's artisans, making each piece a unique work of art.

The Victorian heritage

Widely known as the quintessential British brand, it is no surprise that everything produced under the Ted Baker name has his personality woven into its very heart.

This Fall the brand brings us back in time with Victorian-inspired pieces. Whether you are an enthusiast of the avant-garde, a traditionalist or an in-between, this collection adds just that little hint of vintage to your persona. So what are you waiting for? :
